Trained for perfection!

Making the best coffee is not simply a case of using the best beans. It's as much about how it's made. At Dôme, prospective baristas are selected for their dexterity and unflappable nature and are then put through the rigours of an intensive Master Coffee Making Course. Skills are learnt and practised 'til perfect. All in the name of making the world's finest coffee.

ESPRESSO

THE MEASURE OF A GREAT ESPRESSO

It's not called a shot of espresso for nothing. It's quality not quantity we're after: 35ml of coffee perfection, topped with a rich layer of crema. If you like it stronger, or need a serious kick start to the day, ask for a double espresso.

WHICH MILK

would you like with that?

We know that everyone has their own special coffee order. To make sure everyone feels welcome, we offer a range of both dairy and plant-based milks so you can enjoy the milk that perfectly matches your diet and tastebuds. Dairy lovers can choose from fresh or low fat milk, while those who prefer plant-based can enjoy oat milk for a little extra.

Fine TEAS & CHAI

We love a good cuppa. The word alone is comforting, relaxing and friendly. Waiting for the leaves to brew is a chance to slow down – if only for a few minutes. No wonder tea is good for well-being.

TEA TRADITIONS

The origins of tea can be traced back to China in 3000 BC. Legend has it Emperor Shen Nung was enjoying his regular cup of steaming hot water when a couple of leaves from a nearby Camellia Sinensis bush blew into his cup.

It is said that the Emperor enjoyed the flavour and the sense of well-being it gave him so much, that he took to 'tea drinking' regularly. And the word soon spread.

The plant that led to the millions of cups of tea that are now drunk every day is the unassuming Camellia Sinensis, a plant native to the Far East. The two varieties used for tea production are the 'China' plant, which is shorter, with smaller leaves and is harder than the 'Assam' which grows taller and produces far more leaves, but lives about half as long as the 'China'.

Power OF ANTIOXIDANTS

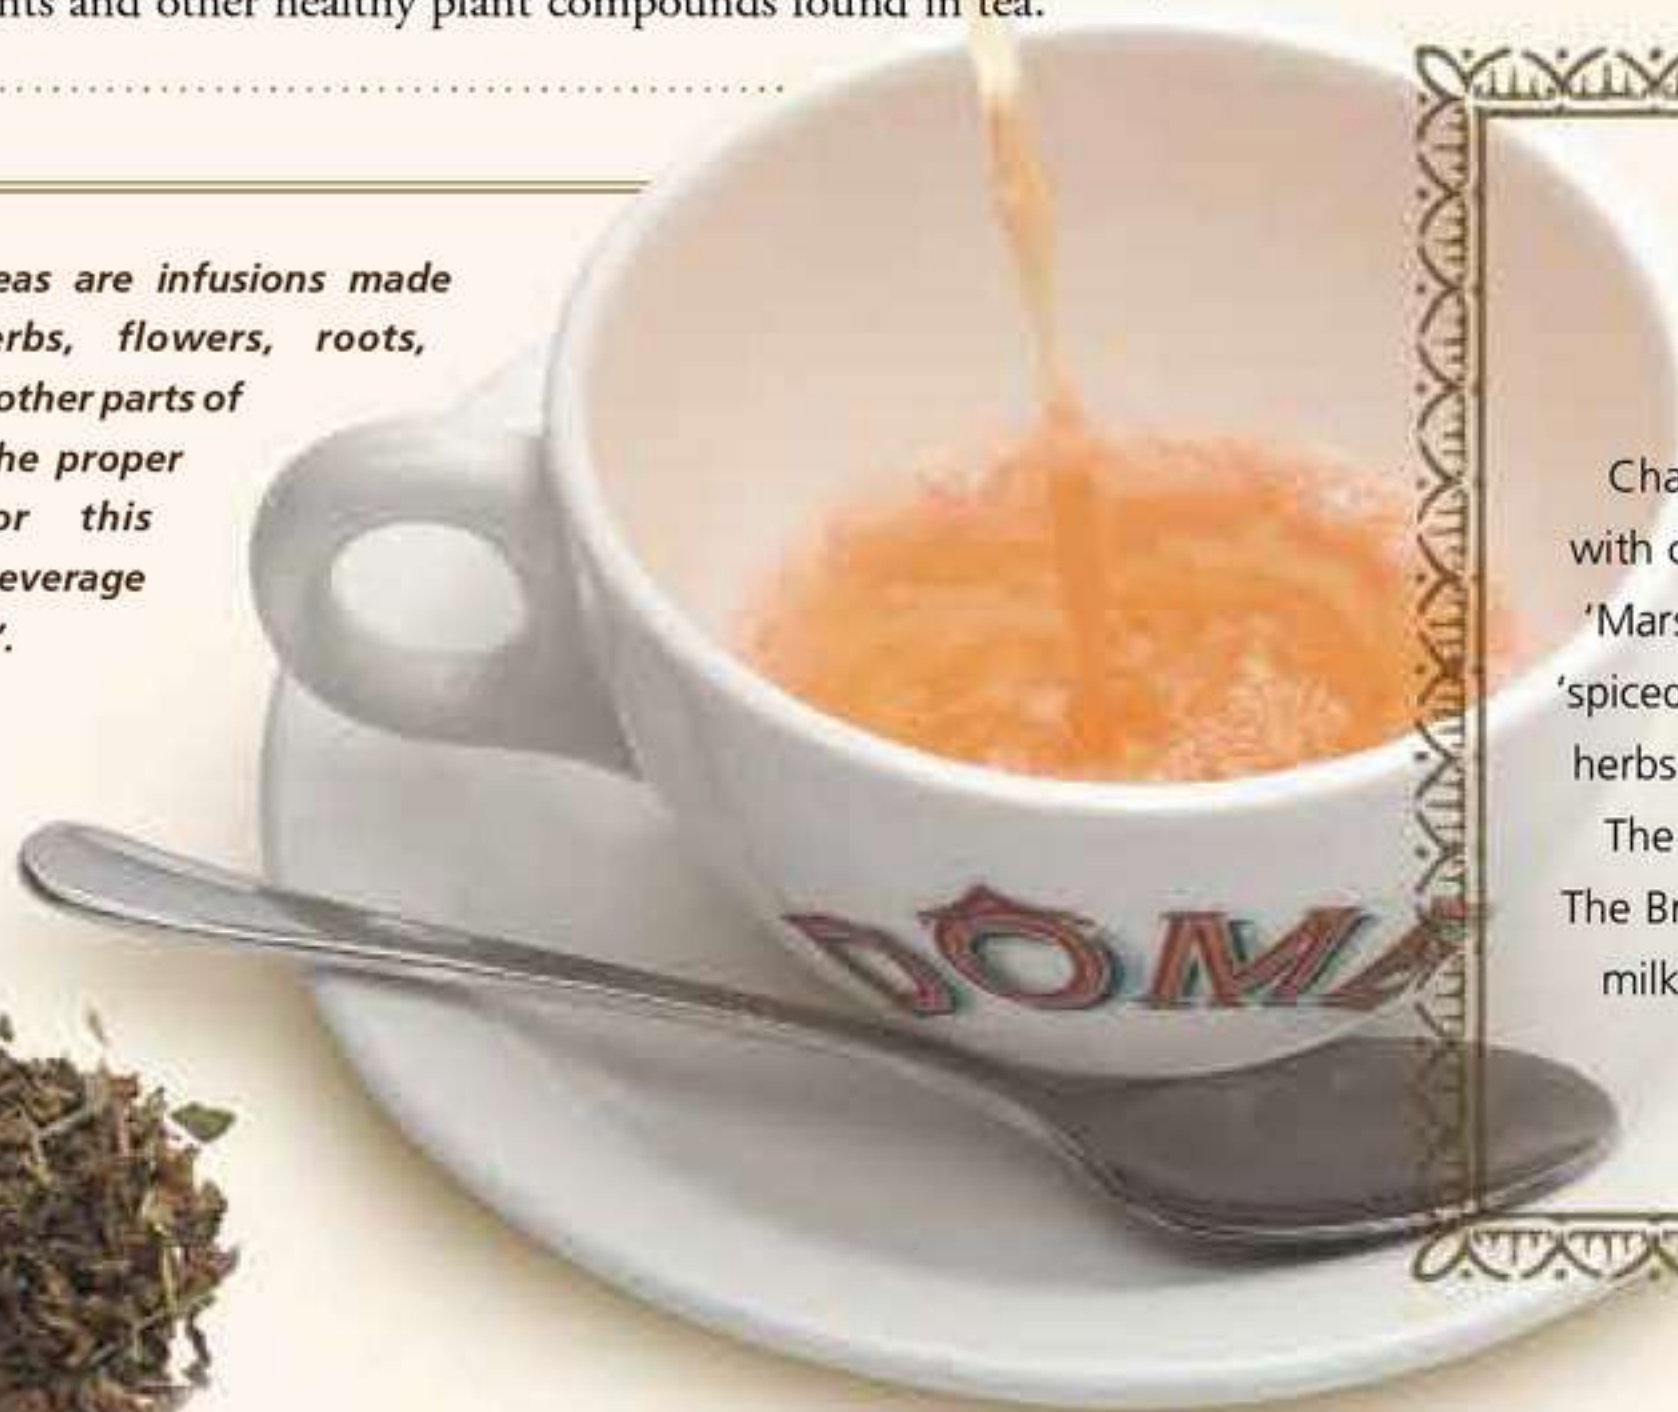

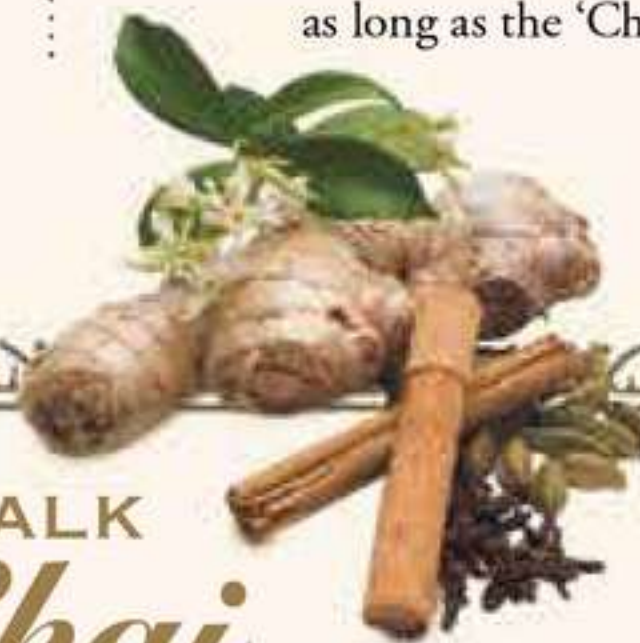

Tea's health benefits are largely due to its high content of flavonoids – plant-derived antioxidants. It's been found that drinking a cup of tea a few times a day can help your body absorb antioxidants and other healthy plant compounds found in tea.

Herbal teas are infusions made with herbs, flowers, roots, spices or other parts of plants. The proper term for this type of beverage is 'tisane'.

LET'S TALK Chai...

Chai is traditionally a spicy, sweet, milky tea mixed with cardamom, cinnamon, clove, nutmeg and ginger. 'Marsala Chai', literally translated from Hindu, means 'spiced tea'. The refreshing and healing powers of these herbs are said to calm the mind and nurture the spirit. The Chai tradition originated during Colonial India. The British introduced the Indians to the idea of adding milk to tea and the Indians took the practice a step further by blending spices with milky tea.

And along came Chai!

TEA traditions

It's all about the leaf, right? Well, the Camelia Sinesis plant has a lot more to offer than its leaves to make the perfect cup of tea. Leaves, blossoms, seeds, berries and roots can all be blended for a traditional refreshing tea. Just add water – and maybe a dash of milk.

WHAT IS smooth fruit?

Dôme Smooth Fruit are real do-gooders – but don't hold that against them, they taste extremely naughty. They are a delicious combination of yoghurt, ice, milk and real fruit puree. It'll do you good to try one!

Smooth START

The fruit smoothie was popularised in the mid 1960's on the sunny beaches of California. The earliest smoothies were fruit based and made with lots of ice. Today smoothies have evolved to include yoghurt and milk, resulting in a refreshingly indulgent creamy fruit drink.

The real DEAL!

We're traditionalists; if it's not made in a metal shaker with real ice cream, it's not a real milkshake. Ours are made to order and are a delicious blend of full cream milk, premium ice cream and your favourite flavour.

Made in America

The first electric blender was invented in 1922, the first milkshake followed soon after. The American drugstore, Walgreens, can take full credit for having the vision to blend ice cream with malted milk. Thank you Walgreens!
